Catholic Central High School

Detroit, Mich.

CONDUCTED BY THE BASILIAN FATHERS

In the years to come, the greatest of pleasure will be derived from the memory of our four years at Catholic Central High School. Realizing this, we, the Senior Class of 1958, present this volume of the Shamrock as a challenge to the memory-dimming forces of time.

DEDICATION

TO THE NUNS

who teach
in our parochial schools
who initiated us into the Catholic School system, in deepest appreciation

Nuns come in assorted sizes, weights, and wimples.

They are found everywhere — swathed in, seated in back of, kneeling on, speeding down, perspiring over, shopping for, patrolling along, worried about, or laughing at.

Little children idolize them, teen-agers puzzle them, lay people reverence them, non-Catholics gawk at them, and St. Joseph looks after them.

A Nun is Faith with chalk on her hands; Hope with a patched habit; and Love with her hair clipped short.

A Nun has the neatness of a pin, the trust of a child, the daring of a paratrooper, the perseverance of a bill collector, the energy of a vest-pocket atomic bomb, the authority of an encyclopedia, and the versatility of a trouble shooter.

She loves the Blessed Mother, likes a good meditation book, ice cream, Friday afternoons, a letter from home, and free days. She is not too keen on summer school, long sermons, correcting home work, getting up early, or grumpy pastors.

No one else is so quick to praise, so slow to censure. No one else can give you a licking and cry while she is doing it. No one else can tell stories, or skip rope, or write on the blackboard so well.

A Nun is a wonderful creature. You can dirty up her class room, but her devotion remains unsullied. You can sass her back, but her prayers for you are redoubled. You can tax her patience, but never deny her influence for good.

A Nun is all this and more: for she is God's sweetheart and it's no wonder that He loves her.

The University of Detroit

"But the clear results of these last decades have proved to be unfavorable to the school without religion, which is, in fact, or comes to be, anti-religious. This type of school, according to the experiences of the past century, of the present, too, has produced some bitter fruits, and therefore has failed in its true purpose; on the other hand, for almost two thousand years, Christian education has gloriously overcome all the trials."

His Holiness,
POPE PIUS XII.

"The forthright, unequivocal devotion of church-related schools to the spiritual postulates of ordered liberty constitutes a unique contribution to their city, state, and nation. It constitutes, as well, a guarantee of fidelity to the authentic American tradition of law and government. It traces the origin of our rights and duties back to God. These schools can follow out to the full the recommendation of the Northwest Ordinance to make progress in religion, morality, and knowledge, the clearly expressed objectives of their program."

EDWARD CARDINAL MOONEY,
Archbishop of Detroit.

"The preparation of the youth of American—to be wise and reflecting citizens, thankful for the new leisure, promising a new freedom from much toil—not merely to relax in pleasure but to cultivate the mind and to nourish the spirit. To be wholly educated, in the sense that man is a spiritual and intellectual and physical being. America needs citizens strong in their ideals and spiritual convictions.

DWIGHT D. EISENHOWER,
President of the United States.

You have been fortunate during your school years to have been in a country where your education was a free expression, not government dictation. Because of this, you have acquired the three most important R's of education:

Reason: Think about the cause and the results; plan your action accordingly.

Respect: For those to whom respect is due: God, country, home, fellow-men.

Responsibility: Shoulder your responsibility as good Christians and enlightened citizens in this challenging world.

LOUIS C. MIRIANI,
Mayor of Detroit.

My dear Graduates

My best wishes are extended to the members of the 1958 Graduating Class of Catholic Central High School.

You have been fortunate in having been given an opportunity to receive a Catholic high school education. By all means continue your Catholic education in a Catholic institution of learning.

Religion plays a very important role in the school in which you have been educated. Today religion is an emphatic part of the American way. Americans are identifying themselves more widely and more readily with religion than they have for decades. The Catholic school is no longer regarded as something subversive, inferior, and un-American. Your credits and your diploma will command the same respect as those issued by any other school.

More and more non-Catholics are regarding the Catholic school with growing interest. They are beginning to realize that education from which religion is excluded is simply no education at all. This is a conviction which Catholics have always believed and maintained.

Protestants and Jews, in increasing numbers, are looking on religionless education as utterly impossible. They are looking to the religious school as the only solution of an intolerable situation.

Thank God that you have had the opportunities of the Catholic school during the years past. You have had the best education that your parents could give. Be grateful for this wonderful privilege and let your life and the career your choose reflect the training that your Church and your home has provided.

May God bless you and keep you always.

Your Principal,
Father Regan.

THE CATHOLIC TEACHER

But nothing discloses to us the supernatural beauty and excellence of the work of Christian education better than the sublime expression of love on the part of our Blessed Lord, identifying Himself with children, "Whosoever shall receive one such child as this in My name, receiveth me." (Mark IX, 36) . . Pius XI . .

All these (Catholic teachers) labor unselfishly with zeal and preseverance in what St. Gregory Nazianzen calls "the art of arts and the science of sciences," the direction and formation of youth. Of them also it may be said in the words of the Divine Master: "The harvest indeed is abundant, but the laborers are few." (Matt. IX, 37). Let us then pray the Lord of the harvest to send more such workers into the field of Christian education . . . Pius XII . . .

They that instruct many unto justice shall shine as the stars for all eternity . . . Dan. XII—3 . . .

I would rather build Jesus Christ in the heart of a youth than the loftiest cathedral upon the earth because churches are destroyed but the heart of a youth in which the image of Christ is engraved will live forever. (James Cardinal McGuigan).

Seniors

— Forward to a Christian Life

For some, our years in high school have been our last formal education; for others, they have been a stepping-stone to college; for all, they have been years of fun, sadness, friendship, and toil — years full of memories. If we have made use of the opportunities within our reach at Catholic Central we have grown in grace, wisdom, and social poise, and we possess our keys to a successful Christian life. Now we must use them to unlock the door to our special place in God's plan. If we fit our key in the right door it will open to us a rich, happy, Christian life, and will eventually help us to unlock the gate of heaven.

Seniors, the key is ours! Forward to a Christian life!

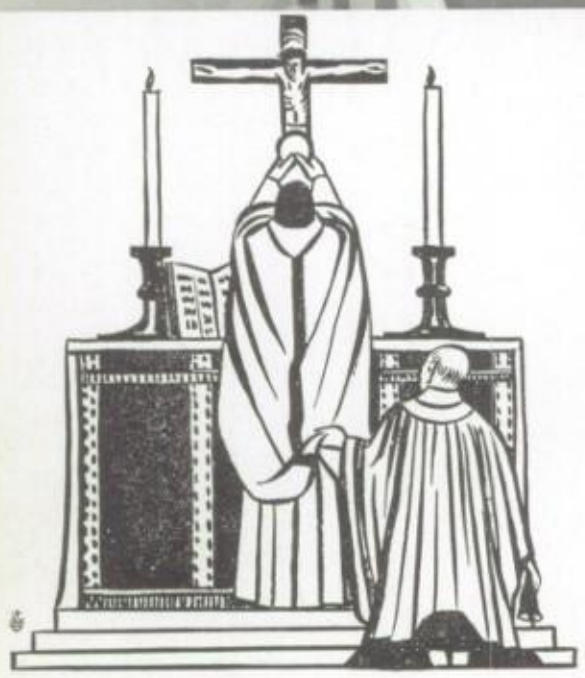
St. Basil's Servers Club

The St. Basil's Servers Club is an organization whose members are devoted to the service of the altar. They are carefully instructed by Mr. Bader in the rubrics for the various liturgical services. But what God must smile on most in appreciation is their unselfishness in sacrificing sleep in the morning to come to the chapel and serve the many Masses said there long before the school day begins.



Fourth Row: Mr. Bader, C.S.B. (moderator), C. Flanigan, J. Quinlan, T. Connolly, M. Raftery, J. Cotant, W. Downs, J. McCann. Third Row: L. Duffy, J. Connolly, J. Armstrong, D. Casselton, P. Madigan, W. Maher, J. Mooter.

ST. John Bosco's Sacristans Club

The St. John Bosco Sacristans Club is probably one of the hardest working and least heralded organization in the school. Under the direction of Father Donoherm, who is the school sacristan, these men of St. John Bosco sacrifice many hours of their time to keep the Chapel so impeccably clean. They also prepare the altars each day for the Masses which will be celebrated at them the following morning.

Father Donoher instructs the school sacristans: Back: T. Mooter, J. Conley, T. O'Hara, G. McInerney, M. Metevier. Front: J. Schmitt, T. Battel, J. O'Loughlin, D. Casselton.

REV. JAMES MARTIN, C.S.B.
SENIOR RETREAT MASTER

During the last part of the Lenten Season, when the whole world was shrouded in the purple mourning of Passiontide, we were privileged to put aside our books and shut out the thousand cares of every day and to enjoy the satisfying experience of our annual Retreat. On the last two days of Passion Week the Freshmen and Sophomores were treated to this experience with Father James Trepanier, C. S. C. of Holy Cross Seminary, Notre Dame, Indiana as retreat master. During the first three days of Holy Week the Seniors and Juniors made their Retreat directed by the sage guidance of Father James Martin, C. S. B. Father Martin who is currently stationed at Holy Rosary Church, Toronto, Ontario, is a household name here at Catholic Central where he was Athletic Director for nearly twenty years.

Our thanks and prayers go out to both Father Trepanier and Father Martin for helping to make us better men.

Christmas at Catholic Central

The spirit of Christmas is a marvelous thing. It is a spirit of eagerness prepared for by the expectant weeks of Advent. It is a hushed spirit of night, filled with awe and wonder and interspersed only with the falling of snow and the silvery twinkling of stars. It is a spirit of happiness that follows waiting, of joy that comes of fulfillment. It is the spirit of giving and receiving in turn. Bells ring, organs peal, choirs sing, and people greet one another. Former enemies talk on sensible terms, people willingly and patiently suffer inconveniences and difficulties. Even the poor are remembered and given gifts of food and clothing so that they can share the Yuletide spirit. Children revel in the newly found fun furnished by gifts mysteriously placed beneath the Christmas tree. Everyone, rich and poor, manages an elegant meal, even if its elegance is only relative to his station. Fireplaces are chockfull of blazing logs. Passerbys can see cheery scenes through the windows of countless homes. The Christ Child lies in His manger once again surrounded by oxen and asses, by shepherds and their flocks, by Mary and Joseph, and by choirs of angelic spirits. Wisemen come from the East to adore. We watch all its pageant. We share its spirit and are glad. For we have tasted of Christmas and we know that it is good. Midnight Mass, the procession to the creche, the program of carols and hymns, the Christmas candles: these complete the religious spirit of the feast. The trees, the wreaths, the Yule logs, the candy: these are but a few of the secular components. "Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace to men of goodwill."

PRAYER FOR GUIDANCE

(Given to St. Dominic Savio by St. John Bosco)

Behold, O loving Virgin Mary, I humbly kneel before thee to beg for the all-important grace of making a proper choice of a state in life. I seek nothing else but the perfect accomplishment of the Will of thy Divine Son through my whole life. I ardently desire to choose that state which will make me happiest at the hour of my death. O Mother of Good Counsel, speak to me a word of guidance, so that all doubt may leave my mind. Since thou art the Mother of my Savior, be also the Mother of my salvation. If thou, O Mary, wilt not shed upon me a ray of the Divine Sun, what other light will clear up my way? If thou, O Mother of the Incarnate Wisdom, wilt not instruct me, who then will teach me? Give ear, then, O Mary, to my humble prayer. Doubtful and wavering, I beseech thee to direct me, to guide me along the path that leads to eternal life, for thou art the Mother of true love, holy fear, knowledge, and blessed hope, whose blossoms bring forth fruits of holy purity and honesty. Amen.
